SECTION 1 – INTRODUCTION

Purpose of the Document

The purpose of this document is to provide a detailed guide for the Airwaybill (AWB) API, which enables users to create, track, and manage shipments through LBC Express. It explains how the API works, its key functionalities, input and output parameters, and integration requirements, helping developers and system integrators implement the API efficiently and accurately.

Scope of the Document

This document covers the Airwaybill API's functionality, including shipment creation, retrieval of shipment details, tracking updates, and management of shipment statuses. It provides technical specifications, request and response formats, and usage guidelines. The intended audience includes developers, system integrators, and other stakeholders involved in integrating or using the AWB API.

SECTION 2 – ACCOUNT REGISTRATION

In this SECTION, the client will need to follow the necessary steps to create their account on the Developer Portal.

Step 1: Click on the following link: https://lbcapiservice.lbcapps.com/ to access the Developer interface. This dashboard will allow you to explore and utilize the API services provided by LBC.

Step 2- (1) Click on "Sign Up" to create your account on the portal. (2) Fill in all the required fields to complete the registration. (3) Click Sign up to complete the registration process.

Step 3 - (1) Click "Sign In". (2) Enter the email address and password you used during registration. (3) Click "Sign In" to access your account. (4) If you've forgotten your password, click "Forgot Password" to reset it.

SECTION 3 – CREATING AN API SUBSCRIPTION

Step 1: From the LBC Developer homepage, click on the 'Products' tab to get started.

Step 2: In the search box, type the name of the API: 'LBC Airwaybill', and click it below.

Step 3: Create a subscription name using the following format, then click the 'Subscribe' button.

- Subscription Name [Ex: <CompanyName>_LBCAirwaybill

Step 4: Provide the subscription name to your sales representative, who will request approval from LBC Admin. Please allow 1-2 days for an update.

Step 5: Once approved, navigate to the Account Profile tab to view your subscription details. The status 'Active' indicates that the subscription has been approved by LBC Admin.

SECTION 4 – LBC AIR WAYBILL API

The LBCAirwaybill API (Application Programming Interface) is used to generate a waybill or label for printing by the ECOM partner. This document includes details such as the shipper, consignee, point of origin, destination, and delivery instructions. The format and specific information on the waybill may vary depending on the requirements of both parties involved.

SECTION 5 - TESTING VIA LBCAIRWAYBILL API GATEWAY

Step 1: Navigate to the APIs Tab.
(1) Click APIs tab. (2) Search the “LBCWayBill”. (3) Click “LBCWayBill – v1”.

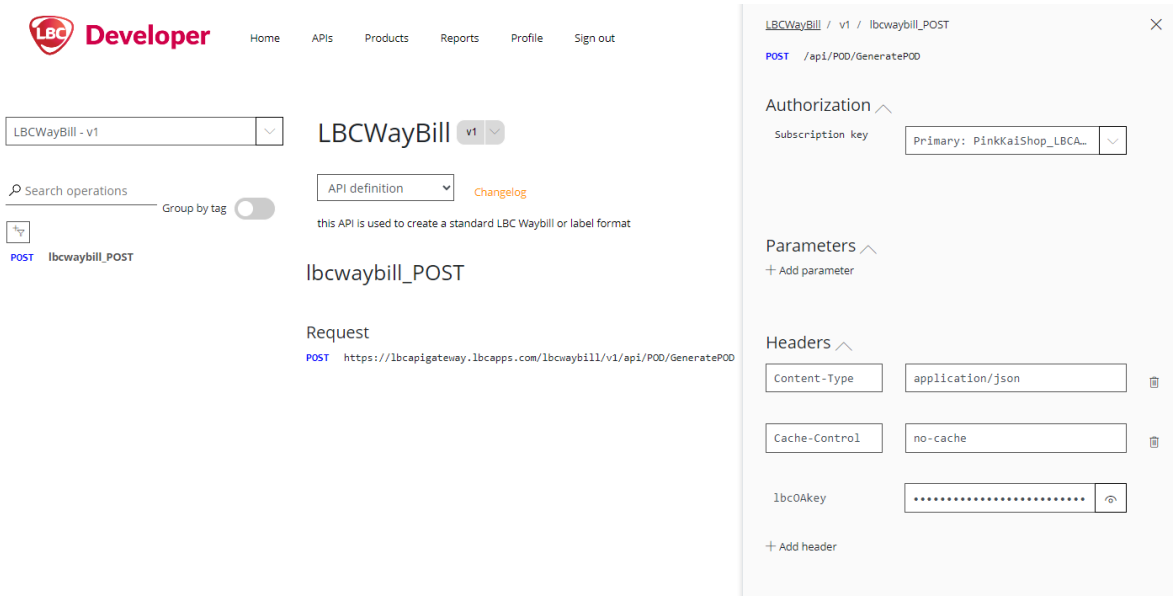

Step 2: In the LBCWayBill v1 view, click the "Try It" button.

Step 4: All the essential details, including Authorization, Parameters, Headers, and Body, will be displayed.

NOTE: To obtain the lbcOAkey, either unhide it or visit your profile. You will find both a Primary and a Secondary Subscription Key there.

Step 5: In the request body, enter the payload for lbcwaybill-v1. Then, click the "Send" button to receive a response. (See sample payload below)

NOTE: To generate multiple waybills/labels, simply add each request (payload) in a JSON array, denoted by {}.
